NATx Alkaloids

Historically seen the group of the alkaloids are a showcase for the successful transformation of natural products into drugs.

Our alkaloid based selection originates in a broad range of naturally occurring molecular architectures yielding a great and refreshing variety of structural motifs with a range of complexity from very simple to highly sophisticated. The structural space covers hotspot areas for medicinal chemistry in connection with unusual structural features and high Fsp3 values. The road to success is free.

7,709 compounds from our library originating from 25 diverse scaffolds are populating the AnalytiCon alkaloid like space. All compounds can be cherry picked. Customized sets can be assembled and delivered in your preferred format. All compounds are above 85 percent purity.
